 - This involvement may include employment or volunteer services.

Program Design

Coordinated Projects

- Projects should be coordinated within the community with the goal of ending homelessness
- Coordinated Entry
 - Transforming homeless services into crisis response systems that prevent homelessness and rapidly return people who experience homelessness to stable housing
- Mainstream Resources
 - Increase program access to mainstream benefits and services through agency partnerships

Program Design

Targeted Projects

- Projects should be targeted to practices that make homelessness rare, brief, and non-reoccurring
- Prioritization
 - Households with the greatest need receive priority for housing interventions
 - Prioritize based on vulnerability and severity of service needs
 - Decision making method for determining who receives assistance and services
- Diversion
 - Strategy to help households determine if it is possible for them to safely stay somewhere other than shelter

Program Design

Housing First

- Spend more time on housing and less on integrating into shelter
- Everyone is ready for housing, regardless of the complexity or severity of their needs
- People should be returned to or stabilized in permanent housing as quickly as possible
- People should be connected to resources necessary to maintain permanent housing
- Issues that may have contributed to a household's homelessness can best be addressed once they are housed

Program Design

Street Outreach

- The initial and most critical step in connecting or reconnecting a homeless individual to necessary health, mental health, recovery, social services, and housing services
- Use harm reduction approach to promote safety and relationship building
- Collaboration with law enforcement and other outreach providers, such as the Veteran's Administration, health care providers, and mental health workers

Program Design

Emergency Shelter

- Temporary, short-term shelter with services to alleviate people's immediate housing crisis as a first step to being quickly and permanently rehoused
- Immediate and easy access to safe and decent shelter to anyone who needs it
- Aims to rehouse people as quickly as possible

Program Design

Homelessness Prevention

- Difficult to strategically target
- Targets resources effectively by addressing those who are about to become homeless “but for” this assistance
- Focused on shelter diversion

Program Design

Rapid Rehousing

- Reduce the length of time program participants are homeless
- Financial assistance should be flexible and individualized
- Progressive engagement approach maximizes the number of households you can assist
- Strong case management should focus on helping participants navigate barriers to tenancy and build a support system by connecting them with people and programs in the community
